

When you book into Brendan's Rally Driving course, Brendan will design a course that is suited to your needs. To book into this course you must have your own rally car and be ready to improved your driving skills.

Brendan will cater his training to suit your level of experience and can work with you on a gravel road or tarmac road depending on what you want to achieve froths training.

This course can be tailored to suit a half day or full day course.

The following information will give you an idea of what yo may like your course to involve:

- Rally driving training around a gravel or tarmac track
- You drive while Brendan instructs
- Demonstration of skills by Brendan while you sit as a passenger
- The use of your own rally car at all times
- Car set up and mechanical information, etc for your car

To find out more or to book your rally driving course, click here to email Brendan .