

With Brendo ready to take part in this weekend's World's Greatest Shave, this is your last chance to support this very worthwhile charity by sponsoring Brendo.

Brendo, who is rapt with the amount of money he has been able to raise for the charity, will have his head shaved at a private function on Saturday night, but all will be revealed next week!

"The support I've had has been great," he said. "I have already reached my goal of raising $1000 thanks to the generous support of the rally community and the participants at Rallyschool."

"All the money goes to such a worthwhile cause, so the more I can raise, the more we can help the Leukaemia Foundation."

You can sponsor Brendo by visiting the World's Greatest Shave webpage <http://my.imisfriendraising.com.au/personalPage.aspx?SID=92421>
